

2 MILLION MANHOURS SINCE LAST LOST TIME ACCIDENT

TORRANCE REFINERY SETS SAFETY RECORD . . . R. E. Lauterbach, manager of manufacturing for General Petroleum corporation, congratulates Frank Largent, chairman of the Torrance Refinery Foremen's Safety Committee, on an outstanding achievement in industrial safety. A record 1,500,000 man-hours with no lost-time accidents has been set by the Manufacturing Department. The corporation was recently presented the "Award of Honor" by the Industrial Conference of the National Safety Council for establishing the best safety record in the oil industry.

One of the finest home exhibits of the year — the L. A. Spring Home Festival of 1955 — next year will go nearer the public with its presentation from February 24 through March 4 at the new, spacious and centrally located Livestock Exposition Pavillion at Santa Ana Freeway and Atlantic Boulevard.

According to Nicholas M. Boila and Louis St. Pierre, who head the group of prominent business men and industrial leaders staging the event, this auditorium was selected because geographically it is located in the center of the Southern California area, the building is new and offers over 80,000 square feet of exhibition space and all Freeways can be used by the public to take them right to the door. There is also ample parking space for over 10,000 cars. The event will be by far one of the finest home exhibits ever presented in the Southern California area and will feature everything for the home owner, plus many surprise new items and products which have never been on display before.
